

The Will Weinstein Conversation Series

Summer 2011

Will K. Weinstein, money manager and former partner in two very successful investment banking firms, currently teaches at San Francisco State University and leads a post graduate summer course, "Ethics and Integrity in the Real World," at the Law School and the Shidler College of Business. This is Weinstein's eighth summer teaching the course, introducing special guest speakers to the university and helping to make this conversation series available to the public.
