MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN

VANCE ROLEY

Dean, Shidler College of Business

Aloha,

Welcome to the Shidler College of Business 2017 Hall of Honor Awards marking our 25th anniversary of recognizing outstanding alumni and business leaders.

Since 1992, the college has inducted 94 outstanding business professionals into its Hall of Honor. These inductees represent a wide range of industries and exemplify the very best in Hawai‘i and the world. From the first group of inductees consisting of Clement Judd, Jr., C. Dudley Pratt, Jr., and Manuel Sylvester, to tonight’s exceptional class of honorees including Allan K. Ikawa, chairman & CEO of Big Island Candies, Inc.; Thomas E. Nichols, president of Pretika Corporation; Carleton L. Williams, founding partner of CW Associates, CPAs; and Mark H. Yamakawa, president & CEO of Hawaii Dental Service, these alumni were selected for their excellent work in their profession, leadership in the community and support of the college.

Over the past 25 years, we have seen the college’s Hall of Honor grow in prominence to become one of Hawai‘i’s premier business award and fundraising events. We owe much of our success to the support of our alumni, the Hawai‘i business community, media sponsor Pacific Business News, title sponsor CW Associates, CPAs, and to the more than 50 individuals and companies who generously purchased tables this year.

We would also like to thank tonight’s emcee Gina Mangieri, Big Island Candies, Inc. for donating the favors, the Shidler Alumni Association, and the Shidler Hall of Honor table sales committee headed by past Hall of Honor Award recipients Rick Ching and John Dean.

Finally, we want to send a special mahalo to Jay H. Shidler for his historic gift to the college. Jay embodies the values we look for in all of our Hall of Honor Award recipients — an entrepreneurial spirit, leadership, business intellect, integrity and a sense of community.

With this new gift and your continued support, we can set the bar even higher and become one of the top public business schools in the nation.

Once again, thank you for your support and have a wonderful evening!

Sincerely,

V. Vance Roley
Dean, Shidler College of Business
First Hawaiian Bank Chair of Leadership and Management
Aloha,

On behalf of the Shidler Alumni Association, I would like to thank you for supporting the 2017 Hall of Honor Awards and congratulate tonight’s honorees.

The Shidler Alumni Association was established in 1997 and represents one of the largest and most active chapters under the University of Hawai‘i Alumni Association. Our mission is to support and promote the Shidler College of Business and connect alumni across the globe. Our board is comprised of 30 directors representing a variety of industries, and for the first time this year, includes two international directors in Hong Kong.

We are proud to support the college in a number of ways:

- The establishment of the Shidler Alumni Association Endowed Scholarship Fund, which has supported 87 students over six academic years;
- A $100,000 five-year commitment to the Pacific Asian Center for Entrepreneurship, supporting education and research efforts;
- Fundraising events, including tonight’s annual Hall of Honor Awards and our Executive Vineyards wine tasting in March;
- Sponsorship of the Outstanding Sophomore Award for the annual Business Night event;
- Various networking mixers and professional development events for alumni, students, and business professionals; and
- Mentorship programs for students from the Freshman Direct Admit Program and the Shidler Global Leaders.

It is through the collective efforts of our alumni and friends that the college can continue to foster our network and enhance educational and career opportunities for students.

For more information about the Shidler Alumni Association and to learn how you can help support the college, please visit shidler.hawaii.edu/alumni.

8:30 P.M. CLOSING

Gina Mangieri is an investigative reporter for KHON2 and the co-founder of The Cole Academy preschools and Hawaii Nautical ocean activities.

A journalist by trade, she has worked in print and broadcast news in New York, London, Chicago and Washington, D.C. before moving to Hawai’i to serve as editor of Pacific Business News in 1998, where she worked for five years. In 2000, she and her husband launched Hawaii Nautical. In 2004, she joined the KHON2 staff as a reporter.

In 2004, Mangieri and her husband established The Cole Academy preschools in downtown Honolulu. Today, there are additional branches in East O‘ahu, Kapolei, Kailua and Mililani.

Mangieri is a 2014 Shidler Hall of Honor Award recipient. She received her bachelor’s and master’s degrees in journalism from Northwestern University and an MBA from the Shidler College of Business.
ALLAN K. IKAWA

BBA 1971
Chairman & CEO, Big Island Candies, Inc.

Born and raised in Hilo, Allan K. Ikawa opened Big Island Candies in his hometown in 1977.

Equipped with a chocolate melter, a shrink-wrap machine and a strong entrepreneurial spirit, Ikawa led a small group of investors to help him renovate a modest space in Hilo’s industrial area. He began by producing high-quality chocolate macadamia nut candies for the Mauna Loa Macadamia Nut Corp. In 1983, with the urging of the hospitality industry for a high-end cookie, Ikawa created his renowned premium chocolate-dipped cookies.

Today, people from all over the world can enjoy Big Island Candies’ products through its two retail outlets in Hilo and Honolulu through its thriving online and catalog sales division.

Ikawa has been recognized with over 15 national and local honors including the National Distinguished Eagle Scout Award; Small Business Administration – Entrepreneurial Success Award; and Entrepreneur Magazine’s 51 American Success Stories.

Ikawa is involved in various business organizations such as the Hawaii Employers Council; Hawaii Island Chamber of Commerce; Japanese Chamber of Commerce and the Chamber of Commerce, Hawaii; among others. He continues to support many non-profit organizations and funds scholarships for Hawai’i’s junior golfers through the Big Island Candies Foundation.

Ikawa received a BBA from the University of Hawai’i at Mānoa in 1971. He served on the UH Board of Regents from 1999 to 2003, and received the Distinguished Alumni Award from the University of Hawai’i Alumni Association in 2003.

Ikawa and his wife Irma reside in Hilo. Their daughter Sherrie Ann Holi is the chief operating officer of Big Island Candies.
THOMAS E. NICHOLS

BBA 1978
President, Pretika Corporation

Thomas E. Nichols is the president and founder of Pretika Corporation, a medical device lifestyle brand based in Riverside, California.

As president, Nichols is responsible for all aspects of the business including overseeing strategic direction, financial performance, brand growth, company culture in regards to mission and values, intellectual property, and product initiatives including asset and business acquisitions.

Pretika is one of the leading developers of skincare and haircare products in the fast-growing at-home beauty device segment with patents and trademarks in the United States and throughout the world. The company has operations in North America (Pretika Corporation), Hong Kong (Pretika Global Limited HK), and China (Fujian Pretika Global). Brands include Pretika, DermaLife, SonicDermabrasion, HairSonic, OxySonic, LightSonic, DermaHeat, SonicLift, Connected Skin Care Technology, and other private labels and store brands for leading retailers worldwide.

A visionary entrepreneur, Nichols has assembled a global team of talented individuals with expertise in product development, large-scale component integration, manufacturing, marketing, sales, communications, finance, and international operations to focus on building and managing strong consumer loyalty and brands.

Nichols holds a BBA in marketing from the Shidler College of Business at the University of Hawai’i at Mānoa, and a MBA in marketing from the George L. Graziadio School of Business and Management at Pepperdine University.

Nichols and his wife Debra have a daughter, Melissa, a senior at the Dodge Film School at Chapman University.
Carleton L. Williams is the founding partner of CW Associates, CPAs, a Hawai‘i Certified Public Accounting Corporation providing accounting, auditing, and other assurance services for profit and nonprofit organizations and companies.

Williams has over 30 years of public accounting experience working with private, government and nonprofit groups, including 11 years with the international accounting firm Deloitte. Among his accomplishments, Williams managed Deloitte’s Hilo office, managed the first audits of the City and County of Honolulu, County of Hawai‘i, and County of Kaua‘i receiving a Certificate of Achievement for Excellence in Financial Reporting. He also managed the audit of one of Hawai‘i’s largest publicly-held corporations and played a key role in the public offerings of major local enterprises.

Williams continues to serve his industry as a current member of the Hawai‘i State Board of Public Accountancy and the Shidler College of Business School of Accountancy Advisory Council, and is a past member of the American Institute of CPAs (AICPA) Governing Council and the Construction Financial Management Association. He also volunteers on the boards of several nonprofit organizations in Hawai‘i including The Salvation Army-Hawaiian and Pacific Islands, USS Battleship Missouri Memorial, Easter Seals, and Washington Place Foundation.

Williams is a certified public accountant. He received a BBA in accounting and an MBA in finance from the University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa.

Williams and his wife Gail have three sons, Matthew, Michael, and Mark.
Mark Yamakawa has been the president and chief executive officer of Hawaii Dental Service (HDS) since November 2014. As the head of HDS, Yamakawa leads Hawai‘i’s largest dental benefits provider with more than 600,000 members throughout Hawai‘i, Guam and Saipan, and the largest network of participating dentists in the state.

Prior to joining HDS, Yamakawa was executive vice president and chief operating officer of The Queen’s Health Systems, the parent company of The Queen’s Medical Center. He was with Queen’s for nearly 30 years and held a variety of leadership roles, including systems development director; planning and management engineering director; vice president – corporate development; and president of Queen Emma Land Company.

Early in his career, Yamakawa was the production planning supervisor at GTE Hawaiian Telephone Company, an industrial engineer at Pearl Harbor Naval Shipyard, and a plant industrial engineer at The Procter & Gamble Company.

Yamakawa serves as the board chair of the American Heart & Stroke Association – Hawai‘i Division, and as a board member of UHA (University Health Alliance), Kapi‘olani Medical Center for Women & Children, Child & Family Service, and ‘Iolani School. He also sits on the Shidler College of Business Advisory Council.

Yamakawa holds an MBA specializing in finance and decision science from the University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa, Shidler College of Business, and a bachelor’s degree in industrial engineering and operations research from the University of California, Berkeley.

Yamakawa and his wife Ruth have two daughters, Rachel and Robyn.

Hawaii's only AACSB accredited graduate business program.
Founded in 1949, the college was named in 2006 after alumnus Jay H. Shidler, founder and managing partner of The Shidler Group after an initial gift of $25 million. Subsequently, Mr. Shidler donated an additional $69 million in 2014 and $117 million in 2017 bringing his total giving to the college to $228 million. His gift is the largest individual donation to the University of Hawai‘i.

The Shidler College of Business is renowned for its multicultural learning environment and its expertise in international business education, and is consistently ranked among the nation’s top 25 schools for international business by U.S. News & World Report. Long recognized for its Asia-Pacific focus, the college offers a wide variety of degree, certificate and executive programs. The UH Mānoa Shidler College of Business is the only graduate program in the state of Hawai‘i accredited by AACSB International.
